

LIBRARY WILL OBSERVE 19TH ANNIVERSARY

Tomorrow Will Be Significant Day at Institution.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION.
Thursday, February 19th, the 19th anniversary of the founding of the Dixon Public Library, has been designated as a Memorial Day for Mr. D. B. Dodge, donor of the Dixon Public Library, and for Mr. Thornton Cummings, who contributed a book fund of $15,000.

It is fitting that this occasion should be celebrated as Mr. Dodge and Mr. Cummings have made it possible for us to enjoy the privileges of this splendid institution and as Mr. Dodge passed from our midst but a year ago, on this date open house will be kept at the library, from 2 p. m. to 9 p. m., with an invitation extended to all. It is hoped that the public will avail themselves of this invitation.

Many interesting documents, letters, pictures, etc., pertaining to the history of Dixon, loaned for the occasion by Mr. Frank E. Stevens, of Sycamore, Mr. Henry Dixon, Mr. George Dixon, and Mr. John T. Lawrence, as well as the State Historical Society, will be on view.

Each citizen of Dixon will be interested and find it well worth his while to visit the library on Thursday. By so doing each may show in a small way his appreciation of those who made it possible for us to enjoy this splendid library and become acquainted, if not already so, with the efficient librarian, Miss Wynn. Do this.

Mark D. Smith, Mayor.

The Dixon Public Library, as stated in the foregoing proclamation by Mayor Mark D. Smith, will celebrate tomorrow, Thursday, Feb. 19th, its nineteenth anniversary, the occasion to be made a memorial for the building's donor, O. B. Dodge, and for Thornton Cummings, who made possible its well-filled shelves by the gift of a substantial fund.

In celebration of the anniversary Miss Wynn, the librarian, has secured and posted a most interesting collection of historical documents, pictures, etc., which have a bearing on the history of Dixon and the state. Collections have been loaned by Frank Stevens, of Sycamore, formerly of Dixon, attorneys Henry and George Dixon, by John T. Lawrence, the State Historical Society, and the Library Extension.

Many Old Documents.

The letters and documents, in the collection of Frank Stevens, are especially interesting. Bearing on the discussion of whether or not Lincoln was sworn into the service at Dixon, still a mooted question with some, Mr. Stevens has a letter written by Brigadier Major Nathaniel Buckmaster to his wife at Alton on May 9th, 1832, the day after Lincoln was sworn in, and written at the mouth of Rock river, where the troops were then stationed. Another ancient document, all of these are originals and not copies in the Stevens collection is a company report of articles taken from the village of the Rock Indians at Sycamore Creek in 1832.

In the Dixon collection is the original deed of the transfer of Ogee's ferry to Father John Dixon in 1829, the appointment of Father Dixon as justice of the peace by Gov. French in 1847, a bill for wampum and earbobs, to be used for trading with the Indians, issued to Father Dixon, and Father Dixon's appointment to the office of postmaster in 1830 of Ogee's ferry, in Jo Daviess county. (Jo Daviess was then a part of Jo Daviess).

Some Early Citizens.

Many pictures of the early residents of Dixon, a painting owned by Mahlon Forsythe of Father Dixon's cabin in 1832, as painted by Noah Brooks in 1858, an interesting collection of Lincoln pictures from the State Historical Society, Father Dixon's account books, an account of Dr. Everett's in which he credits a farmer with seven pounds of butter for 70 cents, (the price of the entire seven pounds and not one pound as it is today) and with five dozen of eggs at 10 cents a dozen, a composite picture of the old settlers of Dixon, a set of colored prints of Indian chiefs loaned by John T. Lawrence, and a collection of pictures by American artists, loaned by the Library Extension, are among the other interesting things to be seen at the library on Thursday making it worth while for everyone to visit the library on that day.

Sale of Ships is Held in Abeyance

BULLETIN
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Feb. 18.—Rejection of all bids received for the 30 former German passenger ships offered for sale by the shipping board was recommended today by the senate commerce committee today by Chairman Payne of the Board who asked authority to renew negotiations for sale of the vessels for operation under the American flag.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Feb. 18.—Consummation of the sale of thirty former German passenger steamers was held in abeyance today by the shipping board until Chairman Payne could confer with the senate commerce committee on the future policy of the board as to these vessels, the bids received for them at the recent auction sale and the cost involved in reconditioning them for operation by the government.

Decision by the district supreme court on the application of William Randolph Hearst, of New York, as a taxpayer, for an injunction to stop the sale, is expected Friday.
President Wilson virtually has completed his reply, which it is understood will be a vigorous negative, to Senator Brandegee's resolution inquiring whether there existed any secret agreement with Great Britain as to the ultimate disposal of seized German ships.
The end of the auction yesterday brought expressions of disappointment from shipping board members at the offers received.

COUNCIL MUST START IMPROVEMENT SCHEME OVER TO MEET LAWS

Decision of Justice Cartwright Affects Work Done Here.

The Dixon city council as a board of local improvements, according to a decision handed down some time ago by Judge James W. Cartwright of the state supreme court, has not conformed to legal requirements in its organization and for this reason all local improvement schemes that have been started this winter will necessarily have to be started over again. The entire preliminary program for putting through a local improvement scheme will have to be repeated in order that the improvements may be legal.

City Attorney R. H. Scott has written to Attorney General Edward J. Brundage at Springfield for a final decision in the matter. Under the decision of the supreme court justice, the city council as a body and not as a board of local improvements, is empowered to pass upon local improvement ordinances. The actions taken thus far might not have been opposed, but in order that the propositions shall be legally passed, the council will drop the program as outlined at the beginning of the year and start over again. This decision was reached at last evening's council meeting.

The necessity of additional equipment for the fire department was a subject of no small amount of comment before the members of the council before that body went into executive session last evening. Mayor Smith suggested the purchase of not less than 500 additional feet of hose as well as suitable nozzles, and Commissioner W. V. Slothower of the department of public health and safety, who went to Chicago this morning, assured the council that the matter would be taken up at once and that he would investigate prices today and tomorrow while in the city.

Commissioner Campbell of the department of public property again brought up the Oakwood cemetery matter. The commissioner suggested that the chapel building in the cemetery, or a portion thereof, to be set aside and used as a receiving vault for bodies during the winter, when the digging of graves is most difficult. The subject was not lengthily discussed, as Mayor Smith stated that the chapel was unsafe. The walls are cracked and it would doubtless have fallen down some time ago but for the supports that were installed by the city, he said.

An ordinance was received and placed on file in which the Chicago & Northwestern railway company seeks to remove one of their switch tracks on Depot avenue to be replaced in a more advantageous position. The regular list of semi-monthly bills amounting to $34753 were also read and allowed.

Fathers' and Sons' Banquet Tuesday Eve

The Council of the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Department at a recent meeting decided to hold the annual Father and Son banquet Tuesday evening at 6:14, in the Boys' Department. This week is national Father and Son week during which time special effort is made to emphasize the "pal" relationship between the father and his son.

In this banquet the son brings his father and vice versa, but at any rate they must come together. Any father and son may come to the banquet but the minimum age for boys is 10 years. If a man has no son he may adopt one for the evening or a boy may adopt a dad if he has none of his own to bring. Plates may be reserved at the Y.
The program committee will have the toast list completed today. There will be snappy talks and music and a big time in general when the fathers and sons get better acquainted with each other.

DIXON SPIRIT SHOWS IN PLAN OF SUFFERERS

Will Resume Business as Soon as Possible, They Say.

Plans of those who were driven from their business homes by yesterday afternoon's fire were not complete today, but in every case the "Dixon Did, Dixon Does, Dixon Will" spirit was evident, and there was an apparent intention of bringing new and more successful businesses from the ruins.

Mrs. Eleanor Starin, owner of the building, who has been spending the winter in Chicago, was notified of the fire last evening and will arrive in Dixon this evening. Pending her arrival it is impossible to state her intention concerning replacing the destroyed structure.

E. C. Kennedy this morning stated that if he can find a room he will at once resume business, and is now looking for such location.

John Vaile, Jones, some of whose burial goods were removed to safety to the Countryman building, has sufficient stock to continue business, and she will continue in business, with telephone headquarters at her home until she can find a permanent location. As a Recorder of the Dixon Camp R. N. A. she has arranged for F. D. Palmer, Clerk of the M. W. A. to receive due until she secures an office.

Dr. Moore, whose valuable electrical apparatus was destroyed, is seeking an office location and hopes to close negotiations for rooms before evening. However, until he has secured some office he will maintain his headquarters at his residence.
John Vaile, proprietor of the Dixonian billiard parlors was this morning determined as to his plans, and C. A. Todd is ill in bed, consequently his plans concerning resumption of his gent's furnishing business could not be learned.

Uncover Alleged Plot to Beat U. S. Out of Income Tax

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Feb. 18.—Albert I. Laur, secretary and treasurer of Briggs & Turivas, an iron and steel wrecking, salvaging and contracting corporation, was under arrest today accused of giving a federal income tax collector a bribe of $15,000 by which he expected to escape payment of $150,000 income tax. Laur spent the night in jail. He was arrested at the instance of Charles Callner, an agent of the internal revenue department who was assigned to investigate reports of fraud through false returns of income taxes in the Chicago district.

Callner presented to District Attorney Charles F. Clyne $15,000 in bills of $100 and $500 denomination, which he said was only half of the money he was to receive "when the falsified income tax returns were successfully put through the internal revenue department."

Laur protested he was innocent. Efforts of an attorney and the head of Briggs & Turivas to keep Laur out of jail last night failed because a United States commissioner refused to accept a property bond. Bond was fixed at $30,000, "cash or Liberty Bonds."

Mr. Clyne said Laur's arrest only "skimmed the surface of huge alleged income and corporation tax frauds in Chicago."

"This is only one case in a huge general swindle of Uncle Sam," he said. "It may as well be known now that the government is centering its national tax investigations here and intends to continue its inquiry until the books of every firm under suspicion have been audited."

Olds Admits to Killing Gallagher

Vernon Olds, a night watchman, yesterday confessed to the Chicago police to having shot and killed Attorney James P. Gallagher, former Sterling man, while he was walking along Michigan avenue in Chicago on the night of Nov. 21, last. Olds, who was taken into custody following the murder, was at that time released following examination by the police; but yesterday he was again arrested for alleged complicity in a restaurant holdup and during examination for that felony he admitted killing Gallagher. He, however, maintains he shot the attorney accidentally as he was trying to lower the hammer on his hand while going through a building in his capacity as a night watchman, and that after the shooting panic seized him and he ran away.

Mr. Compton was born in Luzern County, Penn., Oct. 8, 1844, and was 75 years, four months, and 9 days old at the time of his death. He is survived by three brothers, Levi, of California, Lewis of South Dakota, and Lem of Oklahoma, and one sister, Mrs. B. F. Johnson of Dixon. They, together with a host of friends, mourn his death.

TELEGRAPH UNABLE TO GIVE FULL FIRE STORY BECAUSE OF IT

Blaze Shut Off Electricity and Gas From Newspaper Office.

The fire which yesterday afternoon completely destroyed the Dixon opera house block also prevented the Telegraph giving its readers a complete account of the conflagration, for the fierce flames made it necessary to cut off both gas and electric power services from the lines in the opera house vicinity—and the mechanical equipment of the Telegraph depends completely on these two commodities of the I. N. U.

Because of the big "Dollar Day" edition yesterday the Telegraph had arranged to go to press shortly after 2 o'clock with a mail edition, and accordingly the first page was prepared with a story of the fire up to the hour the opera house block was a mass of flames, but it had not been completely destroyed, and the story for that edition so stated.

Planned Second Edition
It was the plan of the editorial force to prepare a complete running story of the fire up to the latest possible hour for publication for a later edition, but hardly had the composition for the first edition been completed when the I. N. U. was forced to turn off the gas supply to check the flow of gas into the basement of the burning building in which all meters had been melted from the pipes, allowing the gas to flow uninterruptedly in full force.

Stopped Composition
Shutting off the gas put out the fires under the Telegraph's linotype machines, on which all matter for the paper is set up, and completely prevented putting any more matter into type. It also extinguished the fires in the steam table in which the matrices for the stereotyping press are baked, and it was only by a margin of a few minutes that the last "mat" was gotten ready for the paper.

Danger of charged electric wires falling in the vicinity of the burning building caused the city officials to order the electric power shut off from all lines passing the building—and that order cut off the Telegraph's power and made it impossible to run the big press.

The city officials permitted the restoration of the electric power as soon as it was safe, and the I. N. U. officials gave the Telegraph gas service just as long as it dared maintain the service, but the combination of circumstances prevented the Telegraph giving its readers the account of the most disastrous fire Dixon has had in years it had wished to in last evening's paper.

Stebbins' pastorate at Pecatonica has been highly successful, and during the war he was also very active in Red Cross work at Camp Grant.

WRECK DELAYED TRAINS

A bad freight wreck near Mt. Vernon, Ia., tied up traffic on the North-Western, and seriously delayed trains from the west. Train No. 29, due here at 1:19 was six hours late, and No. 4, due in Dixon at 4:11 p. m. was five hours behind schedule.

BLACKENED WALL ALL THAT REMAINS OF DIXON OPERA HOUSE—$100,000 IS ESTIMATED LOSS IN TUESDAY'S FIRE

Flames Devoured Big Building in Very Short Time.

A blackened stone wall—built, it is said, in the "seventies"—and a pit filled with charred smoking and steaming debris, are today all that remains of the three-story building known as the Dixon Opera House Block, the home of five business institutions, a physician, a shoe shining parlor and the city's only "legitimate" playhouse. They are the evidences of one of the most disastrous fires in the history of the city.

In less than three hours after Lee Rice, son of M. E. Rice, manager of the opera house, first detected the odor of smoke on the stage of the playhouse, where he was engaged in cleaning up preparatory to the advertised production of "The Visitor," by Porter J. White and company last night, the big building was a mass of burning ruins, heaped into the basement, and property valued at approximately $100,000 had been destroyed. The insurance will probably not exceed $75,000 or $80,000.

Wall Was Salvation.
That blackened stone wall, tested and found "true" when the opera house was previously burned in 1903, was undoubtedly the savior of much property to the east: the First Baptist church, the homes of Dr. J. W. Garrison and Wm. H. and the Martin Apartments; for had it fallen when the roaring flames were at the height of their intensity, leaving the wind free to carry burning embers at its will, it is doubtful if anything could have prevented the flames sweeping the entire half block.

As it was the firemen were forced to play a steady stream of water on to the roof of the church to keep it from catching fire, and numerous embers, which fell on other buildings from time to time were extinguished.

Smoke in Theater.
Lee Rice was the first to discover the fire. Working in the theater on the second floor, he smelled smoke, and his investigations led him to the trap door in the stage floor, which he raised. Smoke and gas belched from the opening into his face as he hastily lowered the door; he rushed to the telephone in the theater ticket office and turned in the alarm. The firemen responded at once at 12:20 o'clock, and as they drew up in front of the building with the truck, E. C. Kennedy of the Kennedy Music Co., who had just started his automobile preparatory to leaving for dinner, got out of his car and went into his store to investigate.

His search led him to the basement and finally to the furnace room at the rear of the building. He broke in the door, which had been locked by Janitor William Beckingham when he attended the fire in the morning. Mr. Kennedy states that a sheet of flame from the floor to the ceiling in front of the furnace met his eyes as the door gave way. How it started will probably forever remain a mystery for Mr. Beckingham states emphatically that there was no paper in the furnace room.

Flames on Second Floor.
Almost simultaneously with Mr. Kennedy's discovery firemen investigating on the second floor of the building discovered flames in the partitions and beneath the floor. Within a short time eight leads of hose were laid and were pouring into the building, but it soon became evident that the fire had spread throughout the entire structure, for smoke and gas were vomiting forth from every crack and crevice and before 1 o'clock tongues of flame were leaping from every part of the building.

Roof Fell In.
At 1:15 o'clock, less than an hour after the fire was discovered the roof fell, carrying with it to the basement the three floors and the enclosure became a seething cauldron.

At 2 o'clock the fire was under control but the opera house was totally destroyed. The front and north walls collapsed about 1:30 o'clock, creating a roaring furnace. The east wall was supported by two small exterior chimneys and at several times was rocked by the strong wind, which threatened to blow it over against the Baptist church.

Sterling Sent Aid.
The firemen exerted every effort and every available foot of hose played onto the building to prevent the flames from spreading to adjoining

SOME WATER

Tuesday afternoon's fire at the opera house gave the Dixon water system the hardest test it has ever been called upon to meet. Through the eight leads of hose about 26,000 barrels of water—over 1,600,000 gallons—were poured into the fire in less than five hours. The two big pumps at the pumping station were kept in constant operation and the tremendous flow of water through the mains was sufficient to loosen up all iron from the water that had accumulated in the pipes, which accounted for the water about the city being discolored during the afternoon and evening. The service given by the water company was beyond any criticism.

INCOMPLETE FIGURES ON FIRE.

It was impossible to secure complete figures on losses and insurance involved in Tuesday's conflagration today, several of the heads of the business houses being in no position to give figures on stock values until invoices have been examined. Approximate figures are:

	Loss	Ins.
Mrs. Eleanor Starin, building	$40,000	$20,000
Kennedy Music Co., stock	10,000	5,500
Walter Cromwell, stock	3,000	500
C. A. Todd, stock	2,000	(partial)
John Vaile, billiard hall	5,500	4,000
Mrs. Celia Jones, stock	3,000	1,650
Dr. A. F. Moore, apparatus	4,500	(none)
S. A. Watson, office furniture	500	(none)
Huggins Shining Parlor	500	(none)

Other losses had not been compiled, but conservative estimates place the total loss at approximately $100,000.

structures. Mayor Mark D. Smith telephoned to the Sterling fire department calling for such assistance as could be spared from that city to help in confining the fire to the opera house block. Chief Boehm and some of his firemen arrived with two automobiles loaded with hose, which was strung and played on the buildings building and adjoining.
Members of the Dixon fire department were kept busy directing parties of volunteers, to whom the credit of confining the blaze to the one building is largely due. One party of volunteers were successful in getting a line of hose to the roof of the E. H. Rickard building and fought the blaze until late in the afternoon, protecting not only the building on which they had taken their position but rendering valuable service in preventing the fire to spread to the church building.

Carried Goods Out.
Several times sparks set fire to the roof of the Rickard building but the volunteers prevented it from eating through. The entire stock in the Rickard shop was removed across the street and after the fire had been gotten under control, was placed back in the building.

Many of the effects of the Baptist church were removed when it seemed almost certain that the fire would sweep on eastward. The court house yard was strewn with household effects from residences and apartments which were threatened. An automobile standing in front of the Elks club, was discovered burning shortly after the floors of the opera house building had collapsed, a brand of fire, blown by the high wind, having alighted on the top of the car setting fire to it. A passerby gathered snow and threw on the blaze until a bucket of water was carried from the club and the fire extinguished.

No One Injured.
That there was not a large list of injured people, who became excited and rushed into the burning building, is nothing short of miraculous. The members of the fire department several times drove crowds of boys and men out of parts of the structure where they might easily have been trapped and would have met death. As far as is known no one was injured.

Many Windows Cracked.
Eight heavy plate glass windows on the west side of Galena avenue were splintered or cracked by the intense heat from the flames, and all windows on the south side of the Syndicate building, across the alley from the burning building, were broken by the heat.

When the north wall fell the stone filled the alley, crushing the iron railing to the entrance to Wilhelm's barber shop and filling the stairway. As a result the barber shop has been closed to business.

Smoke in Rickard Building.
Smoke penetrated the heavy wall of the Rickard building to the south, filling the rooms and causing some smoke damage, but no fire got into the structure. Water also poured into the basement of the Rickard building, but the sewer carried it off as fast as it ran in, and Mr. Rickard stated this morning that he did not believe there was any damage to his stock from that source.

Show Had Not Arrived.
The Porter J. White company, which was to have presented "The Visitor" at the theater last night, had not arrived in this city when the fire broke out. An erroneous report gained circulation that all of the company's baggage and scenery had been lost in the flames.

An electric light pole north of the W. J. McAlpine residence, over a block away from the fire, was ignited by flaming embers and the top was badly burned.
A Ford delivery truck, belonging to the Kennedy Music Co., stood in the alley at the rear of the building, throughout the fire, but escaped with a slightly burned top.

Old Wagon Turned Over.
The old horse-drawn hose cart, a relic of the fire department, was badly damaged when it was being taken to the scene of the fire, loaded with a reserve supply of hose. John B. Ortgiesen, who was driving the auto truck, had gone to the fire station to tow the old truck with its load of hose to the scene and in turning the corner of Hennepin avenue and First street, the old cart turned over.

Attempt at Jail Delivery, Freeport

Fresh Weakness on Chicago Corn Mart

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Feb. 18.—Fresh weakness showed itself today in the corn market. The chief new bearish factor was a department of justice report in regard to foodstuffs in an effort to compel the lowering of prices. Declines in the value of hog and cattle were also a weight on the hog market. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/2 to 1/4 lower, with May 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 and July 1 2/8 to 1 1/2, were followed by a moderate further setback.

Oats sagged with corn. After opening 1/4 to 1/2 down, including May at 80 1/2 to 80 3/4 the market continued to descend.

Lower quotations on hogs pulled down provisions. Selling, however, was not urgent.

ILLINOIS FOLKS TELL OF EXPERIENCE

Freeport, Ill.—"I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines. While I have taken some of nearly all of these medicines at different times and they always were first-class, I can speak especially well of the 'Favorite Prescription.' I have taken it as a special woman's tonic and it was excellent. For several years I was in very poor health. I had doctored for some time without results and I was in a miserable state when I decided to write to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for advice concerning my ailments.

"I am sure I owe my good health of today to Dr. Pierce, and perhaps my life, and I cannot say enough in praise of his skill and also his grand medicines."

Mrs. E. Scovill, 329 Elk St.

Galena, Ill.—"Some years ago I was afflicted with catarrh and liver trouble. My blood was impoverished and an abscess formed over my liver. I was in a serious condition when my husband brought me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets and a package of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. My improvement was noticeable from the very start, but I took seven bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' so as to be cured and restored to perfect health.

"My sister also had a most satisfactory experience with the 'Discovery' which she took for an asthmatic condition. Two bottles of it absolutely cured her of asthma and for thirty-five years afterwards she continued praising 'Golden Medical Discovery' and recommending it to persons afflicted with asthma or bronchial affections."—Mrs. Hattie Moore, 518 Dewey Ave.

WHEN EVERY MOVE HURTS

Lame every morning, aching and stiff all day, worse when it's damp or chilly? Suspect your kidneys and try the remedy your neighbors use. Ask your neighbor!

John H. Fulk, 510 W. Seventh St., Dixon, says: "I am a shoe cutter by trade and have to stand in front of a cutting machine. There is a great deal of jarring in connection with this work and I am sure that is what caused my kidneys to get out of order. I was completely down and out and unable to work for ten days. I could hardly move, by back pains excruciating and I couldn't lift the lightest weight. The kidney secretion passed too freely and it was annoying to have to get up so often at night to pass them. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Prescott & Schildberg's Drug Store. After using them, the trouble disappeared."

Why More Small Cars Come Equipped With Goodyear Tires

Last year, more small cars, using 30 x 3, 30 x 3 1/2, or 31 x 4-inch tires, were factory-equipped with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

This is plainly a result of the high relative value produced in these small-car tires by Goodyear's enormous resources and scrupulous care.

They represent the same intense endeavor to supply utmost satisfaction in tires that has laid the basis for the marked preference which exists everywhere for Goodyear Tires in the larger sizes.

This real Goodyear value in tires is available for your Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or other small car, at our nearest Service Station. Go there for these tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

30 x 3 1/2 Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread.....$20.00
30 x 3 1/2 Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread.....$17.65

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are thick, strong tubes that reinforce casings properly. Why risk a good casing with a cheap tube? Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost little more than tubes of less merit. 30 x 3 1/2 size in water—$3.90 proof bag

The bride wore a dress of white crepe de Chine. The bridal veil was of white tulle, held in place by a wreath of myrtle, and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

H. F. Chapman, of Davenport, Ia., cousin of the bride, was best man, and Miss Iva Fisher, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Miss Minnie Butt, niece of the bride, served as bridesmaid, and Leon Medlar, cousin of the groom, served as groomsmen. Both the maid of honor and bridesmaid wore pale blue crepe de Chine.

A sumptuous dinner was served after the ceremony.

The happy couple left the same evening, followed by the good wishes of their relatives and many friends, for their new home on the Barr farm near Diamond Lake.

Some of the guests, who were present, were: Mr. and Mrs. W. Butt, Masters Henry, Fred and Edwin Butt, Mrs. Sophia Wolf, Albert Wolf, Mrs. L. A. Both the bride and her attendant wore tailored suits of dark blue, with corsage bouquets of white roses.

A wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. The house decorations were in pink and white and carnations, arranged with ferns, in the two colors adorned the table. The guest were the immediate relatives of both the bride and groom.

The destination of the wedding trip was unannounced. The new home will be made near LaMoille, Ill., on a farm.

The bride came with her parents to Dixon a short time ago from Lee Center to make their home and has made many friends in her brief stay here. Many friends unite in extending best wishes to this popular young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Curran, of Dixon, the latter a sister of the bride, attended the young couple. Mrs. C. C. Ackert played the wedding march.

The bride wore a very attractive costume of blue Georgette and gold lace, with which a black transparent hat was worn. She carried a shower bouquet of pink and white roses. A blue beaded Georgette gown was worn by the matron of honor. Her hat was a picture hat in electric blue and she carried white and yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Hannan left immediately for their honeymoon trip to the West. They expect to be gone two weeks and upon their return will take up their residence with the bride's father on his farm south of town. Mr. Hannan will continue his work as machinist at the Grand Detour Plow Co. works.

W. R. C. ATTENTION—

The members of the Woman's Relief Corps are expected to meet at the Methodist church at 2:30 tomorrow to Last December Mrs. Prescott was re-elected chaplain of our order, having held that office for seven consecutive years. She always was so devoted to the order, always ready to do anything for the good of the cause. We all realize the great loss we have sustained. It was her request that the Corps flag service should be used.

A GARDEN LESSON.

Last spring a man grudgingly gave space in his flower garden for a 5-cent package of lettuce seed.

They came up happily, ungrudgingly, and inasmuch as they nestled among the flowers they were given a reasonable amount of cultivation. From May 15 until July 15 lettuce from that tiny bed graced the wife's table every single day in goodly eating quantities.
Midsummer heat made the hard seed stalks grow, but no matter, from July 15 until Sept. 15 the stalks yielded leaves for the bases of salads and for various purposes, decorative among others. When it was all over, the mistress of the home announced that if she had purchased all the lettuce used during that four months from her grower, it would have cost $16.

This is offered as just a little lesson to the city householder. You can have a very respectable, money-saving vegetable garden on a very small plot of ground. Six feet square will carry a half dozen different kinds of vegetables, and require very little attention and work. A patch 10 by 6 is better because it would be no more labor to the man or woman who is willing to take care of six feet square.

The fact is well known that the consumer pays twice the price that the truck man gets for his garden stuff. But when you raise your own stuff, you cut out the profits of both the truck gardener and the grocer.

Moreover, you get your vegetables fresh with all the delicious original flavor.

You get health from the little exercise in the fresh air.

And you're a poor stick if you don't obtain pleasure in seeing your own things grow and grow and grow.

Get ready for a little bit of garden the coming spring.

CANADA'S RAILROADS.

Canada, too, has a "railroad problem."
The Dominion long has had her strong road, and her weak roads. Also, she has dabbled in government-owned railways (Intercolonial) for years. During the war she added to her stock of government-owned and operated roads by taking over the non-paying branches of the Grand Trunk. More recently the whole of the Grand Trunk has been taken over by the government, and now there are two lines, the strong and paying Canadian Pacific, and the National, or government-owned line. The latter includes all the Grand Trunk, Intercolonial and smaller lines, 23-375 miles of track, of which 1800 is in the United States, representing an investment of more than $1,300,000,000.

The Canadian government has invented a governmental corporation scheme to handle the National system; the government owns the stock and elects the board of directors; Parliament has nothing to do with the operation.

Canada expects to face an annual railroad deficit for some years to come, and this is to be paid out of the public treasury. "Eventually, with strict railroad management and economy," predicts Graham Bell, deputy minister of railways, "government roads will develop into a paying proposition."

MORE JAPANESE.

An increased marriage rate, a lower death rate, a decrease in divorces, more births than anywhere else in the world. Where did it happen? Japan.

During 1917 the population of Japan, including the colonial possessions, registered a net increase from births of 612,774. The total recorded births for that year is 8,843,023 and the deaths 1,230,279. This was a higher birth rate than anywhere else except Rou-mania and Hungary in 1914. War conditions obviously reduced the birth rates in both those countries below that of Japan.

Divorce in Japan is very simple, involving mainly the decision of one or the other party to the marriage to cancel it, with the sanction of the family council. In this respect it resembles the marriage laws of Soviet Russia.
In spite of this simple proceeding, there was a decrease of 4452 in the year's divorces.

With Japan growing normally at this tremendous rate, with its density of population as great as in overcrowded Great Britain, where are the coming generations of the Flowery Kingdom to find domicile?

With his cabinet deserting him, leaving the sinking ship, as it were, and his support-merely too stubborn to admit he is wrong.

OFFICE INFORMALITY.

Mr. Root is fond of telling this story about himself.
One day he said to his office boy, "Who has taken my waste paper basket?"

"Mr. Johnson, sir, the caretaker," was the reply.
Sometime later Mr. Root asked "James, who opened that window?"

"Mr. Smith, sir, the window cleaner."
"Now, look here," said Mr. Root, "we call men by their first names here. We don't mistler them in this office.
Do you understand?"

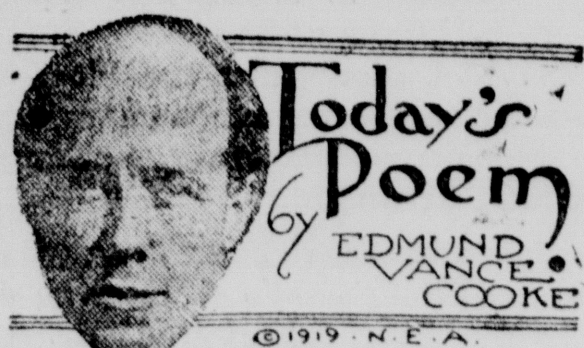

"Yes, sir."
Ten minutes afterward the door opened and the thrill voice of James was heard saying, "There's a man as wants to see you, Ellibut"—Pittsburgh Sun.

ADOLESCENCE

BY EDMUND VANCE COOKE.

His baby eyes have lasted until now,
But now they come out of their chrysalis.
New-fashioned. Change is in his kiss
And coming creases hide behind his brow.

Long have I feared to see
This time, when he
No longer raids my chair and climbs my knee.

Almost his cheek is smoother than before,
Down-touched with thistle-mist too soft to feel,
And yet beneath the velvet is a steel
Which time begins to harden at its core.

Now, too, his restive brain
Can scarce contain
An impulse we may name, but not explain.

His ringing laugh takes on a turgid note,
And he is seized of fantasy and whim.
The future of him flares, the past burns dim
And there is whimsical discord in his throat.

A fading, boyish ghost
(First-loved and most)
Harries and hallows down a distant coast.

THE BOYS IN THE OTHER CAR

SUCH IS LIFE

Bill Johnson is a highway man.
He swings a wicked gat.
Beneath your nose and frisks your clothes
And leaves you busted flat.
And Bill's an honest citizen
Outside of business lines.
His tax returns show all he earns,
Deducting only fines.

girl, "we'll be late for the movie. I many minutes for that mother of

"Hours, I'll say," the young man said.
"Ours?" she smiled sweetly. "Bill,
this is so sudden."

PINNING A MEDAL ON
THE FLOORWALKER.

When you've breezed through a department store well bet you've wondered what that fellow looking up and down the aisles was doing.

Well, listen here: Sometime when you're in a hurry to make a purchase so you can catch a train, or get home to the kiddies, and you don't just know where some certain department is—there's where that fellow comes in.

He's the traveling directory of the store. What he doesn't know about the stock in that store isn't in the stock.

"First aisle to the right," "We don't carry that, madam," or "third aisle."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

THE POLKA-DOT ELEPHANT.
The first thing the twins saw in Topsy-Turvy Land was a polka-dot elephant in a bib, eating bread and milk out of a blue china bowl.

The elephant got right up when he saw Nancy and Nick and invited them to share his supper. "I'm so glad you've come," he said, happily. "I was beginning to get very lonely."

"Do you have much company?" asked Nick.
"Oh, yes, quite a lot," answered the elephant, busily setting out bowls and spoons. "I'll tell you my story while you are eating. I always tell my story to my guests. But it's the only story I know and my old friends get tired of it. I'm glad you're fresh ones!"

Nancy and Nick wanted to tell about the mushroom and their green shoes, but the polka-dot elephant didn't give them a chance. He started right in.
"I was a circus elephant," he said. "I did tricks and the people clapped.
I had a dear little rider who wore a polka-dot dress and ate out of a blue china bowl. She was very sweet and light as thistle-down. At meal time her mama tied a bib on her and gave her bread and milk and a kiss. And I got to thinking how nice it would be, to be dainty like her and have a bib and be kissed. One day I woke up and here I was, polka-dot and all. But no one will kiss me!"

"Oh, I will!" cried Nancy, doing so at once, which pleased the elephant so,
he turned pink to his ears.
"Have some more milk," he said.

"No, thank you. We can't stay," said Nancy. "We're on an adventure.
If you see a stray toy monkey, will you let us know?"
"Sure," said the elephant, obligingly. "And I'll tell him my story till you come."

Confessions of a Bride
(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

Voices brought me back to life—men's voices speaking a dialect I did not understand. I crouched deep in the pit of my car. My hasty movement made it sway gently, but it seemed to be securely anchored on its sea of green leaves. I kept my head well below the top of the cockpit. I might far better be eaten by wild animals than fall into the hands of Mexican half-breeds loose on a hunting trip!

Jane Finds Herself in the Camp of the Bandits.

The chorus of voices grew louder and I knew that the crowd was increasing. Women arrived, and children—I knew from their thin voices. Suddenly, above the excited rise and fall of their talk, a rippling laugh came to my ears—and detestable!

I looked over the edge of the car.
"Miss Miller!" I said in French with a grand nonchalance which I was far from feeling. "I've brought it!"
Of course she couldn't hear me the first time I spoke, for the uproar of the crowd, at sight of me, drowned my words. Miss Miller, by merely raising her hand—silenced the assembly! I repeated my announcement.

"You're a dear!" she called up to me, in French. "But please leave it up there. We'll send for it when we need it. Will you come down?"
"I do not know how to get down," I replied. "Neither do I know whether I want to get down: I'll have to take your advice. Will I be safer here or there?"

"You can bet on me to take of you, my dear Jane," replied my rival. Her tawny hair shone gloriously among the jet black heads. "I'm queen of this camp. I'll promise to protect you."
"I do not care to be a bandit queen myself," I replied, "but I seem to be in for a taste of the life. Help me down, somebody. I'm not a circus performer, you know."

An Indian in the crowd proved to be a more expert climber than any steepie-jack I ever heard about. He came up to Katherine Miller's order and tested the sustaining strength of the boughs which supported my airplane. Then he made a nice little rope basket, tied me into it, threw an end of the rope over the limb of a tree, and the men lowered me to earth.

Miss Miller welcomed me with a kiss and put her arms about me. I felt that I had made a mistake. I was far more comfortable in the clean tree-tops. "How did you manage to find the camp?" she whispered.
"I did not," replied. "I was only trailing Bob—who is trailing you. My engine went wrong."

"A rescue party is on its way?" she said in my ear. "Do not speak of it now." Then aloud, she added, "Don Manuel is away. He is escorting his wife to the railroad station, and he will bring back a distinguished guest. Do not be afraid. He rules the camp"—then in my ear—"and I rule him!"

"Where is the camp?" I inquired.
It proved to be close at hand. It was in a cave of several rooms, with an entrance concealed by growing vines. Katherine Miller had a room to herself.

Never—never—could Bob and Morrison "gas the gang" as they had planned. I was relieved. If they did, I would be gassed myself—and that was not a pleasant prospect.

Uncle Sam

"UNCLE SAM, M. D., will answer questions of general interest relating to hygiene, sanitation, and the prevention of disease. Address: INFORMATION EDITOR, U. S. Public Health Service, WASHINGTON, D. C."

Advice to Persons Who Have Had Influenza or Pneumonia.

Many persons who are recovering from influenza and pneumonia lack appetite and feel weak. Fresh air is one of the best tonics. It will arouse appetite, bring color to pale cheeks and strengthen lungs if they have been weakened by influenza or pneumonia.

One should remain in the open air as much as possible and be clothed warmly but not too warmly. Draughts should be avoided, windows should be open at the top and bottom in every room of the home, especially in the bedroom. The outside air at night and in rainy weather is just as necessary as it is during the day or in fair weather; therefore, do not shut your bedroom and living room windows at night or when it rains.

Persons who, in recovering from influenza or pneumonia have lost weight or strength, should not depend on medicines alone. Good food is a more valuable tonic. Food should be of the kind that gives greatest nourishment. Eggs and meat are excellent food for persons, but when they are fried they cannot be readily digested by some persons.

Meals should be taken at regular hours so that the stomach has time to digest the food. However, if one has lost weight, one should take a glass of milk and a slice of bread and butter or jelly midway between meals. Milk is recommended as one of the most important foods for building up a weakened body.

Food should be chewed slowly and well.

ANSWERED.

Q—I am not able to hear with my left ear. What could I do to restore my hearing?

A—Everything depends on the cause of the trouble. Sometimes systematic treatment by a competent ear specialist will help. Sometimes, in fact, the difficulty is due merely to the accumulation of ear wax, which can be removed by the family physician. In some cases, however, nothing can be done.

'TIS NOT SURPRISING

Washington, Feb. 17.—Public utilities corporations, because of the contracts with local operators, must charge consumers the 14 per cent wage advance recently granted bituminous coal miners. Frank Borgman, representing the public service corporation of New Jersey, today told senate interstate commerce sub-committee. The increase amounts to about 30 cents a ton and 90 percent of the total increase now is being paid by the ultimate consumer, he said.

They raised the 5-man team score from that of Oregon 2313 by 149 pins making a score of 2459 in that event. In the singles Schick raised the score to 557 which is 2 points above the previous high man, Moersbacher with 545 pins. In the doubles Schick and Wilcox rolled 1005 which is 8 pins above the Cook Brothers of Clinton who had 997 in that event. To date Rochelle leads in all three events. Dixon has two teams who will try to beat the present scores on Tuesday and Wednesday night.

Prisoners Will See
Hanging Friday A. M.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 17.—Prisoners in the Cook county jail will be permitted to witness executions in spite of protestations made by women, public officials and others, said Sheriff Peters today.

Jack O'Brien will be hanged Friday morning for the murder of a policeman and the procedure will be the same in the hanging of Raffaello Burrage about a month ago. O'Brien will be executed with the prisoners in surrounding tiers of cells looking on, the sheriff said.

"The mere hanging of a particular subject is not meant to punish that subject alone," said Sheriff Peters, "but the real object is to punish the criminal class. If capital punishment means anything at all it is a deterrent to further crime and an example to others. The very class it is intended to reach are those confined in the jail. I will pursue the same policy with regard to the execution of O'Brien as I did with Burrage."

TO DISCUSS SCHOOL STRIKE.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 17.—A mass meeting of Chicago school teachers will be held Thursday to debate what action shall be taken to obtain salary increases. The younger teachers have announced they favor a strike but the older, more conservative teachers who are in the majority, are opposed to a walkout. The teachers are dissatisfied with recent salary increases granted by the board of education.

OLD MAN SENTENCED.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 17.—Thomas Bride, of Bloomington, an elderly cripple, was sentenced by federal Judge Fitzhugh to serve six months in the McLean county jail following his plea of guilty to a charge of using the mails for fraudulent purposes.

LITTLE WOMAN
GAINS 35 POUNDS

Was In Bed Three Months
and Weighed Only 80
Pounds Before Tanlac
Restored Her.

"I had been down in bed for three months when I started taking Tanlac but in one week after I had taken my first dose I was able to be up and about," was the statement made the other day by Mrs. O. T. Ponder, 527 East Second St., Galesburg, Ill., in telling of her remarkable recovery since taking Tanlac.

"Only my neighbors can tell you the misery I have gone through during the past seven years, why, I have suffered a thousand deaths," she continued. "When I would study about my condition and the small chance I had of ever seeing another well day I would almost go into hysterics. My nerves were almost completely shattered and I could become excited at the least little unexpected thing. I had indigestion so bad that I was almost afraid to eat anything because of the agony I would be in from the cramps and gas, I would get so deathly sick at my stomach sometimes that I would faint. At nights I would lie awake for hours and I kept losing in weight until I was down to about eighty pounds. I was generally more than a frame and finally I got so weak that I gave away completely and had to take to my bed."

"This was the condition I was in when I was persuaded by a friend to try Tanlac, but as I had but little hope of ever getting out of bed again, I took it more to please her than anything else. Well, you can imagine how happy I felt when I began to improve—my nerves eased up and I began to relax and get more sleep, and in a day or two I was able to eat a little something. All this encouraged me so that I did not allow myself to miss a dose and in less than a week from the time I started taking Tanlac I was out of bed. And by the time I had taken four bottles I was able to do all my housework and take care of my five little children. And now I am in perfect health and can eat anything I please without it ever troubling me in the least. I am not one bit nervous and sleep sound all night long. I have gained back all my lost strength and energy and weigh one hundred-fifteen pounds. My friends and neighbors are simply amazed at the way Tanlac has brought me out and I can hardly realize myself the well and happy condition I am in. I will praise Tanlac the longest day I live for giving me back my long lost health."

TANLAC is sold in Dixon by Public Drug & Book Co., and the leading druggists in every town.

CHANDLER SIX
Famous For Its Marvelous Motor

If You Don't Want to Wait
Next Spring, Order Now

LAST year's production of the Chandler Six was of record volume and this year's production will double it; but if you don't want to wait for your New Chandler next spring, we suggest that you order it now.

This year's automobile shows have attracted crowds greater than ever before, partly perhaps because hundreds of thousands of Americans were unable to secure new cars last year. And these great crowds of motor enthusiasts have found no better value in the whole exhibit of six cylinder cars than that which Chandler offers.

Chandler leads so distinctly in the medium-priced fine car field because it does offer such splendid value; because of its really marvelous motor developed through seven years of production in the Chandler plant and seven years' service on the road in the hands of a host of owners; because of its sturdy, dependable mechanical construction throughout the entire chassis; and because of its attractive and comfortable body.

Compare them all, all the sizes, then pick out yours.
It will be a Chandler if you ask Chandler owners.

TO READ PSALMS

THE BARGAIN COUNTER

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, Feb. 17.—Uncle Sam will soon be conducting great classes in reading Psalms almost at the foot of the Statue of Liberty. The pre-war practice of examining all steerage immigrants at Ellis Island, instead of on shipboard, has been restored.

More than 1,000 men and women will read from the Psalms at the island daily, and "Miss Liberty," who stands a stone's throw from the island slip, could hear if she were incarnate. Reading from the Psalms is the literacy test for admission to this country, which went into effect in May, 1917, and is now receiving its first real trial because immigration during the war was small. The law provides that an immigrant with a few exceptions must be able to read from 30 to 40 words in any language he or she desires. The department of labor devised the Psalm test as the fairest for all.

Immigration inspectors are equipped with cards in all languages with verses from the Psalms printed on them. All types of script are represented, German, Arabic, Hebrew, Japanese, Russian and so on, except Chinese, for that nationality is not permitted to immigrate. Lest any alien learn parrot-like the verse of the Psalm that a friend in this country had to read, the inspectors have at least 40 different verses in each language, one verse to a card.

Primary examination at the island will require many more employees. Immigration authorities have estimated that it will take $1,000,000 more annually to increase the force to a proper size as well as to raise salaries of present employees so that skilled workers will not leave the service for private employment.

Says Great Britain Has Again Violated Monroe Doctrine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Charging that Great Britain had violated the Monroe Doctrine by interfering with the sailing from Buenos Ayres Sunday of the former German steamer Bahia Blanca, with consignments for ten north American companies, Representative Britten, Republican, Illinois, introduced a resolution Monday asking the state department to make a full investigation.

"It was a common practice of Great Britain to violate the Monroe Doctrine as well as American rights on the high seas prior to the American participation in the European war under the guise of war necessity," the resolution said, adding "it must now be evident to all nations alike that the government of the United States will not countenance interference with American trade except through proper American diplomatic channels."

A dispatch from Buenos Ayres last night said the sailing of the Bahia Blanca had been indefinitely postponed.

TREATY IN BERLIN TRIAL.

Berlin, Monday, Feb. 16.—(Day-ed.)—A sensational turn was given the trial of the libel case of Mathias Erzberger, minister of Finance, against Former Vice Chancellor Karl Helfferich today. The commercial treaty with Roumania came up for consideration by the court and added much to the interest taken in the case.

Herr Erzberger asked that the public be excluded in view of the possibility that state secrets might be disclosed.

After retiring for fifteen minutes to consider the minister's motion, the court returned and ordered spectators out of the room, not even Dr. Helfferich's private stenographers being permitted to remain.
